I finally decided to take the plunge and purchase a nice humidor as a present for myself. After hours of research I finally decided on the Daniel Marshall Ambiente largely on the basis of positive reviews from CA, this discussion board, and my local shop. I went for the "seconds" that DM offered to save some money: DM Private Stock Humidor Sale.

After a bunch of emails back and forth, i settled on the 150 count in burl because of the near-mint quality condition offered for that model and you could get another for an additional $100 off! So, two 150 count boxes, with digital hygrometers and top trays, tax and shipping all came just under $485! 😊

I got them a week later, and the boxes looked fantastic! I did the dollar bill test and the seal seemed great. Did the salt water calibration test and both hygrometers were a perfect 75% 12 hours later. Seasoning took a couple day for me and has been a steady 70% for nearly a week now with a dozen or so smokes. The other is just sitting pretty in the living room.

Anyways, I'd thought i'd share my experience and recommend DM if anyone is looking to do the same thing. Now, i have to wait for all my cbid wins to finally arrive... oh well!

Here's a pic... DM Ambiente
